NEW-YORK TRIBUNE.

INDIAN ORCHARD .- This manufacturing INDIAN ORCHARD.—This manufacturing part of Springheid, is now in a fair way to have its great advantages developed. Contracts have been recently excited for the erection of a mill suitable for the machinery for 14,000 spindles for the manufacture of fine cotton cioti, and the work is to be vigorously prosecuted. Measures are also in progress for starting an extensive paper mill for fine paper. A connection is now formed by a branch Eathroad, with the Western Railroad, 11 miles in length, and the lunning time from the Satingheid Depok to the exter of the village at indian Orchard-6 miles—will not exceed fifteen minutes. The dam across the Chicopet River is constructed of massive blocks of stone laid in comeant, and is not inferior to the best structures of the kind in New-England.

In relation to the advance in the price of Reading Road the Philadelphia North American says:

Reading Road the Philadelphia North American says:

This may, in part, be attributed to the increasing business of the road, the improved financial prospects of the Company, no less resulting from a tunnage twice the amount of the corresponding period last year, than the effect likely to follow the passage, by Congress, of what is termed dir. Hunter's the From what we can gather from reliable sources, the direct operations of this bill will be to impart some slight protection to our coal and from interests. The additional duty imposed (if we may use that term) on from, as near as can be ascertained, is equivalent to about $1.75 per tm. Such of our from masters as we have conversed with appear to be satisfied; for without this protection, slight as it is, nearly every furnace in the State would have been compelled to "blow out." The additional duty on coal will not fall much about of 60 cents per tun, which effectually protects the domestic article.

The appreced letter to Col. Jas. L. Cur-

The annexed letter to Col. Jas. L. Curis, President of the New-Jersey Mining Co., gives some valuable information in regard to the products of the ores of that Company. It is from Mr. A. C. Farrington, Engiof that Company. It is from Mr. A. C. Farrington, Engineer of Newark:

Siz.—In answer to your inquiries as to the purity of the metals and paints manufactured from the red zinc ores of Sassex Co., N. J., when compared with similar settless produced in Europe, it will be necessary to premise that zinc is a volatile metal, and is reduced from its ore by sublimation, requiring a powerful heat, and the white oxide its produced by sublimation in the same manner, and condensing the sublimed metal in an atmosphere of oxygen. You will therefore comprehend that the purity of the article will depend, in the first instance, upon the presence or absence of volsatile elements associated with the zinc in its ores, or that may be used as a flux in its reduction. The red zinc ore of Sussex is associated with tron and manganese only, neither of which are volatile at the heat which will reduce zinc. The flux is either charcoal, coke, or the purest anthractic, and the result its, a metal obtained of chemical purity, well adapted, as chemists now generally understand, for the most delicate chemical tests.—The white is also a pure substance of zinc and oxygen.

The zinc ores of Europe are either carbonates or sulpiners, and in many instances mechanically combined with galena, arsenic and santimony. The consequence is that we never obtain from Europe any zinc of chemical purity; and all of it being alloyed or in combination with some one of the foregoing impurities, and often, as we find by analysis, with all of them, the paint manufactive from such a sticle count be pure.

Beside the impurities contained in the white zinc of Europe'as it comes from the furnace, it is often adulterated afterward with the carbonate of lime and other substances. The New-Jersey Exploring and Mining Company, by selling their paint prepared in oil have it in their power to guard against the adulteration of their paint by dealers, and ean therefore with safety warrant the consumer a pure zinc paint.

for 1851, under the head of Chronicle of Occurrences for 1856, has the following in regard to the European and 1856, has the following in regard to the European and North American Railway, viz:

"July 3".—At a Convention of Delogates from Nova Scotis, New Brunswick, Newfoundland, Canada, and the New-England States, held in Portland, United States, under the Presidency of the Governor of the State of Maine, a plan for abortening the transit between Great Britain and the United States was considered and sanctioned. The plan propose a the construction of a Railway, to be called the European and North American Railway, which should pass through Maine and New-Brunswick, connecting the great centers of industry and commerce in the United States with some convenient port on the Atlantic Coast of Nova Scotia. The Harbor of White-Haves, near Cape Canso, was named, whence to Galway the distance hout 20th miles, which may be traversed by powerful steamers in five days. A full for incorporating the European and North American Railway, was subsequently passed unanimously by the Legislature of Maine."

Each the time of the assembling of the Portlant Convention, the Railroad had been extended East, as far as Water-ville on the Kennelse River. The Convention proposed to extend a line of Railway from the valley of the Kennelse.

through New Brunswick to the Eastern coast of Nova-Scotia. We learn that the Road is to be forthwith extended to Bagor, flay miles further East, and that the means for the accomplishment of the same, in two years time, have been secured. The mode in which this has been effected is this the Administrated St. Lawrence Raitroad, and the Androscogain and Kennebec Raitroad, both of them on the broad gaage, or rather the medium broad gaage of the Broad gaage, or rather the medium broad gaage of the Broad from Waterville to Bangor, on a case of 25 years, paying 6 $\phi$ cent. $\phi$ annum on the cost. This secures the necessary means, and the Road is to be put under contract and completed in two years. From Bangor to 8t. John the Survey has been completed, and the Legislature of New Brunswick, now in session, have under consideration the subject of a grant for a Charter through that Province and a similar law leunder consideration in Nova-Scotia. As soon as the Charters are obtained, giving concurrent powers to the same company in Maine, New-Brunswick and Nova-Scotia books of subscription are to be opened for the whole line. It is proposed in each Province to adopt a law similar to the Canadian Facility.

It is confidently expected that the affairs of the Lewis County Bank will be arranged next week, and the Bank go on.

The corporators of the Illinois Central Railroad have a meeting on Monday to take action of the acceptance of the Charter. Gov. French of Illinois, who is ex-ficio a Director, will be present

The Newburgh Excelsior says: The receiver give Executive Says:

The express train from Newburgh to New-York via. Sufferns and Jersey City is doing a fair business, and is an arrangement very gratifying to our citizens. Being a much pleasanter and safer route to the city than any other, and equally expeditious, it is securing the entire traval to and from Newburgh.

The bill to extend the Charter of the Missouri Senate.

The money market is more tight at Boston. On stock loans the rate is 8@10 per cent. At Philadelphia there is an active demand for money, but the rates are unchanged. Paper in the street goes at bank rates.

Nearly two thousand men are now employed on the New-Haven and New-London Road, which number will soon be increased to five thousand.

We have announced heretofore the passage of the bill granting the right of way to the Ohio and Mississippi Railroad Company, through Illinois, by the Legislature of that State, at its late session. It is stated to be a liberal law, and one under which the Company can construct the road. It allows six years in which to complete construct the road. It allows six years in which to complete the work, and is to be commenced simultaneously at Illinoistown, opposite St. Louis, and at the eastern side of the Central Road, and prosecuted alike from Illinoistown to the latter Road, and from that work eastward to Vincences
